

Episode 37 - FlyScoot

Written by Jason (Neutral)
Friday, 10 January 2014 00:00

Episode Thirty Seven / FlyScoot

In this episode Damo checks out Scoot, a low cost airline that is full of Scootitude. Thanks to the crew at Scoot we were able to fly from the Gold Coast to Singapore.

Whist onboard Damo got check out what goes on behind the scenes and also got to check out the seating options and optional extras such as the inflight menu and duty free.

Scoot provide services from the Gold Coast, Sydney and Perth to Singapore and onto other destinations including Bangkok, Taipei, Tianjin, Tokyo and Hong Kong.

If you're looking to experience all that Singapore and Asia has to offer we highly recommend you check out the incredibly low fares offered by Scoot. www.flyscoot.com

Episode 37 - FlyScoot

Written by Jason (Neutral)

Friday, 10 January 2014 00:00

FlyScoot.com

Scot is an airline for the young, the young-at-heart and the value seeking. For people who remember that travel is all about discovering, connecting, experiencing, and enjoying. Simply put, people with Scootitude™.

Scot brings you a new travel experience. They started with a fleet of Boeing 777s and a safety, security and operational DNA reflecting their heritage. They offer you new non-stop routes from Singapore, and a new price paradigm on some existing routes – Australia, China and ultimately the world.

You'll be surprised just how affordable it is to travel with Scot. If you're Formula One fans like us consider flying with Scot from Australia to catch the Singapore F1 race under lights.

Check out their flight schedules and offers today at flyscoot.com